

MISSIONAL COACHING PROCESS

Coaching is an integral part of Cultivate. You will be placed in a triad coaching group. The triad group includes you, another WIML participant, and your coach. The sessions are approximately 90 minutes in length but it is recommended that you budget for two hours. Five of your sessions will occur prior to the Summit and one will be scheduled after the Summit.

Your Missional Coaching sessions will begin after the September 8th meeting. On this call, you will be introduced to your coach and your triad partner. Your coach will reach out to you to schedule your first coaching appointment. At the end of each missional coaching session, your triad will set the next appointment.

Coaching is not counseling. See the chart below for a quick snapshot understanding.

It is required for you to complete the coaching agreement found in the link provided. This should be completed prior to your first coaching session. Please note that in this agreement you are also giving express permission for your information request form to be shared with your coach.
